

In-company trainings

We have organised in-company trainings on demand for various governments, companies and institutions. These were short trainings regarding current affairs as well as longer trainings/courses exploring existing tenets or new legislation.

We continuously update the trainings we have developed, and we can also organise them for you.

We tailor each training to the specific demands of your organisation, the level of your employees and the current questions that your employees wonder about.

For contractors and principals, we currently offer revised trainings on the following topics: public-private partnership / procurement, updated construction law and applying general purchase conditions.

Costs of our in-company training are € 600 per morning/afternoon, excluding travel costs, including PowerPoint presentation. For additional activities, such as providing the course material and working out specific questions, we can provide you with a customized quotation.
